dear david
dear david,

your call with norine was alarming to me, from what she reported.

david, i dont understand by what rationale i should sit by and watch while all the assets get spent down while wer continues not to produce a credible plan of action. i need to get some feedback soon on this. i find it very bad taste to feel disregarded after the good faith we have shown, not only in making the loan to begin with, but in supporting the various attempts to get a plan together.

i have an obligation to the endswell foundation not to support you guys to spend out the money on yourselves, while our loan is disregarded.

i continue to hear nothing and get no reports.

id like an immediate response.

ty, i want your assistance to see that we are treated responsibly.

sincerely,

joel solomon

dear david,

thank you very much for getting us the check. this helps a lot to build some confidence. feel attended to.

our position will continue to be, wait and see what you come up with, business plan, how the mag looks, who else gets in, sales, etc, but this moves us a long way to longer term relationship. ?

norine is the front lines on endswell and point, but i am her assistant. so look to her for primary guidance.

sincerely, joel
